100 Facts About Egypt N° 75

Egypt's Educational Initiative has equipped more than 2,000 schools with additional computers.

- The Egyptian Education Initiative (EEI) was launched as a public-private partnership between the Government of Egypt and the World Economic Forum's Information and Communication Technologies (ICT) community as a progressive model for reforming Egypt's education system.

- The EEI aims to increase Egypt's competitiveness and boost job opportunities by investing in human resources development and creating a future generation armed with knowledge and 21st century skills.
- The EEI has trained thousands of school leaders on using ICT in the educational process and has given over a thousand schools access to the Internet.
- The government has initiated several other programs to improve education in Egypt, including the Illiteracy Eradication Initiative, which has been shown to increase retention rates and the speed of learning
